

Medical Record 4:

Current Status:

A 28-year-old female with sudden onset of severe lower abdominal pain, nausea, and vaginal spotting. Vital signs: BP 110/70 mmHg, pulse 100 bpm, mild pallor present.

History:

Last menstrual period was irregular. No known chronic illness. No history of pelvic inflammatory disease or surgeries. Sexually active with one partner.

Initial Diagnosis:

Suspected ectopic pregnancy.

Suggested Steps:

- Urine pregnancy test and quantitative serum hCG.
- Transvaginal ultrasound to confirm pregnancy location.
- Immediate gynecological consultation.
- Prepare for possible surgical intervention based on imaging.
- Monitor vital signs and provide supportive care.